Q2

What did you like about the training?

I found that it was didactic and clear

Q3

What things can be improved in the training?

Maybe implement subtitles, my English is not the best sometimes I did not lose the audio a bit and the subtitles would have helped me understand better.

Q2

What did you like about the training?

It laid good groundwork for understanding fundamentals of jvm tuning, and made good use of showing your many helpful tools, which more need to learn about.

Q3

What things can be improved in the training?

Some of the topics and discussion were a bit facile, promoting common understandings where I might have hoped more experienced insight would have been helpful.

Still, I would certainly recommend the training when I have the chance to do so. For most people, it will be valuable and eye-opening. Thanks again for giving me the chance to observe it.

Q2

What did you like about the training?

Lot's of good information. I mean LOTS of good info

Q3

What things can be improved in the training?

It felt a bit unstructured in the way Ram jumped between various slide decks, notepad, and blog posts. There was structure, as it all was planned, but it felt off. I only suggest this from a cohesiveness perspective as a member of the audience.
